

Brief Is Filed On Districting By Republicans

LANSING (AP) — Republican members of the legislative Apportionment Commission Monday rebutted a Democratic plan to redistrict both houses of the legislature on a strict population basis.

In a 59-page brief filed in the Michigan Supreme Court, the GOP members called for adoption of a plan that will follow closely the formulas set forth in the Constitution.

To approve a plan based on a "one man, one vote" principle, they said, would be "in complete derogation of the Constitution."

The Republicans said two Democrat plans which purport to follow the new Constitution's formula contain inconsistencies. They said the third — the strict population scheme — "ignores the Constitution and should not even be considered by the court."

Arguments March 2-3
The GOP brief contended the court lacks jurisdiction to consider any question other than which plan "complies most accurately with the constitutional requirements."

Democrats filed their written answer to the Republican plan last Friday.

Oral arguments on all four plans — three Democratic and one GOP — will be held March 2-3 with the court expected to rule in mid-March.

The court earlier Monday asked both sides to consider three questions in their oral presentations. Two were concerned with timing of a decision, the third with the extent to which constitutionality should be taken into account.

The court termed as "possibly pivotal" the question of whether the U.S. Constitution must be considered in its decision on new House and Senate districts. Arguments favoring the "one man, one vote" principle have been based on the theory that any other method of apportionment violates the "equal protection" clause of the 14th Amendment.

Approved By Voters
The Republican rebuttal contended this issue should not be dealt with in the proceeding. The Republicans were former Gov. Wilbur Brucker, William Hanna of Muskegon, and Ralph Huhtala of Kingsford and Alfred LaPorte of Standish.

They directed their strongest assault on the Democratic plan sponsored by Richard Austin, of Detroit, and A. Robert Kleiner of East Grand Rapids.

The Austin-Kleiner plan called for both chambers to be districted on a strict population basis. The authors said that to do otherwise would violate the State Constitution's "equal protection" clause.

The Republicans said the Austin-Kleiner plan is "an audacious attack" upon the legislative branch of government, "partisan in its origin."

The Democrats, they charged, attempt to destroy the apportionment process.

PATROLMAN Raymond Wisniewski pays a hospital visit to Mrs. Barbara Rybicki, 25, and her twin boys, delivered by him at the Rybicki home in Detroit Sunday. Wisniewski, whose only experience in obstetrics was a course in child delivery at police school about eight years ago, was called to the house when the parents were unable to reach a doctor. Time was too short to go to a hospital and the patrolman had to take over as midwife for the twins, who are reported in excellent health. (AP Wirephoto)

Marine Chief Optimistic For South Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's top Marine said today the communists in South Viet Nam have stepped up the size and intensity of their attacks because they think the war is developing in their favor.

But Gen. Wallace M. Greene, the new Marine commandant, told The Associated Press he is optimistic about the eventual outcome of the anti-communist war being waged with heavy U.S. help.

"I am optimistic as long as any outfit wants to fight," Greene said in an exclusive interview.

Greene discussed the war in South Viet Nam in the first question - and - answer interview he has granted since becoming commandant of the 190,000-man Marine Corps last Jan. 1. He looked over the situation on the spot just before the last coup.

The commandant said he was unable to answer questions growing out of a spate of reports that the U.S. government is considering moves to carry the anti-communist war behind North Vietnamese lines.

Campaign Plans Sound
Q—General, you were out in South Viet Nam shortly after you became commandant and in between the coups. On the basis of what you saw and learned out there, how would you assess the military situation in Viet Nam today?

A—Anything I could say would be based on the impressions of a short stay in South Viet Nam. However, I had the opportunity during this brief period of going from one end of the country to the other.

I had the opportunity to look at the latest plans for the campaign in that country. In my opinion they are very sound from a military point of view.

I reached a very definite conclusion that there were plenty of supplies—ammunition, weapons, and other means—on hand to accomplish the plan.

I had a chance to see the officers and men—both Vietnamese and their American advisers—in the battalions and companies and other units. I thought they were highly competent, that they wanted to fight.

No Quick Victory
I also came away with the feeling that this is a long-time business, and we aren't going to win the fight overnight.

Q—What was your impression of Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, the new Vietnamese premier?

A—The general is a highly competent man.

Resort License Plan Suggested

LANSING (AP) — Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency has suggested abolishing the quota system for resort licenses and setting up only one class of liquor license as an answer to the demand for more resort licenses.

Ferency made his proposal in letters to Sen. Harold Hughes, R-Clare, and Rep. Walter Nakula, R-Gladwin, chairmen of the Senate and House Tourist Committees.

Ferency said the state apparently is unable to service the rapidly-expanding tourist industry by increasing the number of liquor licenses in resort areas. He said there is no need for the distinction between resort, tavern and Class C licenses.

New quotas, he said, should be established for one class of licenses based on total state population. He also called for abolishing restrictions against transferring the ownership or location of licenses beyond the boundaries of local government units while retaining the local option of remaining dry.

Hughes has introduced a bill, co-signed by Democrats and Republicans, aiming at expanding the number of resort licenses from the present 550 quota. It would permit the commission to issue additional resort liquor licenses at its discretion with no quota set.

Wheat Controls Are Attacked By Farm Lobbyist

HOLT (AP) — Government wheat and cotton controls were attacked Monday night by Dan Reed, lobbyist for the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Farmers rejected a government wheat control program in a referendum last May, Reed said. It is a breach of faith now, he said, for Secy. of Agriculture Orville Freeman and administration leaders to be pushing the same sort of program through Congress.

Baker Balks At Inquiry; May Be Up For Contempt

Paper Ballots Approved For November Vote

LANSING (AP) — A bill to order use of paper ballots in machine voting precincts in case of an "election emergency" this year was on its way to the Senate today.

The proposal won approval 90-0 Monday in the House.

Paper ballots are expected to be necessary to provide space for all candidates seeking office in November, due to election changes called for by the Constitution.

The number of bills proposed this session rose to 1,189 Monday, the third-highest figure on record. The Legislative Service Bureau said 300 more bills are being drafted.

Efforts began in the House Monday to revive some of the bills which were voted down in last Friday's rebellion against absentees.

One bill, a proposal to remove a $25 ceiling on attorney fees for handling certain mental case proceedings in probate court, lost for the second time. The vote was 50-36, six short of the required majority.

Approved, 87-2, and sent to the Senate was a bill to include vehicles with capacities of less than eight persons, but used as school buses, within the legal definition of school bus. It would exclude station wagons.

Drifts Pile Up In Four States

DENVER (AP) — A winter blizzard swept southward from the northern Rockies early today, deluging mountains in heavy snow and creating high-way havoc.

Snowfall was general but light across the plains where winds cut visibility to near zero.

Hundreds of motorists were stranded by deep snow drifts and blizzard conditions in Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Colorado. Roads in northern Wyoming were closed.

A motorist near Helena, Mont., died when he tried to make it to shelter after his Jeep had stuck in the snow.

In eastern Idaho, snow drifts near the National Reactor Testing Station at Idaho Falls stranded 40 buses, 160 cars and 1,600 employees Monday.

Three to four-foot drifts were encountered by motorists near Powell, Wyo. Schools closed early.

The fierce winds, reaching 50 miles an hour, raked northern Wyoming and parts of North Dakota.

Twenty cars were involved in five wrecks on a single hill north of Buffalo, Wyo., but no one was reported injured.

Jet Plunge Fatal To 58 In Lake Pontchartrain

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — An Eastern Air Lines four-engine jetliner carrying 58 persons on a flight from Mexico City to New York disappeared minutes after takeoff from a New Orleans stop today and crashed in Lake Pontchartrain. There were no signs of survivors.

The Coast Guard said it recovered parts of a large aircraft, including seats, communication equipment and soundproofing.

Also recovered were clothing, luggage and what was described as parts of bodies.

Wreckage Scattered
The Coast Guard said one of its helicopter pilots over the wreckage area reported there were indications that the plane either exploded in the air or on impact. The debris was scattered over a wide area.

The spokesman said the site is about six miles south of the north shore of the lake, or some 20 miles north of New Orleans. It was about four miles east of the 27-mile long Lake Pontchartrain causeway connecting the north and south shores.

Eastern said the plane carried 51 passengers and a crew of 7. At least 32 of the passengers were making the through trip and at least 17 boarded in New Orleans. Fourteen were pass-riding Eastern employees.

Eastern said the DC8, Flight 304, left New Orleans International Airport for Atlanta at 2:01 a.m. (CST) and disappeared from air traffic control radar screens minutes later. That was the last contact with it.

Up 16,000 Feet
A veteran Eastern pilot said the jet probably reached a height of some 16,000 feet shortly after it got over the lake.

Lake Pontchartrain is some 30 miles in diameter, with its southern shore along one side of New Orleans. Marshy land surrounds much of the lake, which has an average depth of about 15 feet.

At the time the plane took off from New Orleans, the visibility was good. There was a light rain over the area. Winds were calm.

Gerald Eddy Resigns As Conservation Boss

LANSING (AP) — Director Gerald Eddy today announced his expected resignation as head of the State Conservation Department and predicted "problems" for his successor.

Eddy, director of the department since 1951, stepped down to become head of the geology division.

The change, Eddy said, will cut about $1,000 a year from his current pay of $17,500 as chief of the department but he won't have as many problems.

High On Choice
Eddy said he knew that a majority of the seven-man Conservation Commission favored his resignation but denied that he resigned under pressure, saying it was his own choice.

Eddy's department has been under fire from a special committee named by Gov. George W. Romney to investigate the conservation policies.

His resignation as director will become effective April 3.

Eddy said he sent a letter late Monday and then telegrams to members of the commission headed by Stanley Cain of Ann Arbor, chairman, announcing the resignation. The terse three-paragraph letter complained that the reorganization of the department was not going in the right direction.

Said Eddy: "The reorganization of the Department of Conservation in compliance with your directives to me to implement certain of the recommendations of the governor's study committee is a complex task. Considerable progress, in my opinion, has been made. However, it has become increasingly apparent that my concept of progress to date

Senator Gives Door Prizes To Spur Committee

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Harry Litwiche, R-Benton Harbor, is determined to increase attendance at his agriculture committee's meetings. He gives door prizes.

He gave Sen. Arthur Dehmel, R-Unionville, a fruit cake for being first in his seat at one meeting, and gave other members souvenir boxes of candy just for showing up.

Still, he failed to muster a quorum for Monday's meeting. "I'll give green stamps if it comes to that," he said. "I'm going to get my committee together."

Other senators showed less confidence of this in their own committees. They complained the scheduling of 21 standing committees spreads the 34 senators so thin it is nearly impossible to get enough men together to pass on bills.

"If we can't get enough together to act," said Sen. Milton Zaaman, R-Grand Rapids, "it just means the bills will die."

Subcommittee members are Sens. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., J. Glenn Beall, R-Md., Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt. Hart was the only senator present at Muskegon today.

Capt. Joseph V. Cook, Muskegon port director, charged Monday that inland carrier rates discriminate against Great Lakes ports. Cook said a city port survey showed only five per cent of the potential export business going out. Only 10 per cent of the potential import business came in, he added. He blamed much of this on inland rates.

Hart said 160,000 tons of government shipping moved through the Great Lakes in 1962. He called this "a mere drop in the bucket considering there was a potential of at least one million tons."

Hart said much of the shipping lag is created by an Interstate Commerce Commission act which permits free passage or greatly reduced rates on shipping by governmental units.

"Under this statute," he said, "carriers can, and have, cut rates far below their costs in order to divert traffic away from the lakes."

The Eastern spokesman said the plane made routine checks after takeoff and vanished from radar with no alarm given and no hint of trouble.

is not in accordance with the thinking of some of you."

Setup Uncertain

Eddy said in the letter that he shared with the commission the wish that the reorganization be accomplished as fast as possible and therefore in view of the situation submitted his resignation.

Eddy predicted there will be a problem of selection of a new director. He said it will be complicated by the new constitution which virtually leaves the department up in the air — not specifying whether it should be a separate department or attached to another.

The critical governor's report recommended a streamlined program of simplification of organization of the department and more emphasis on long-range planning for conservation needs of the future.

Farm Bill May Delay Action On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders offered President Johnson today a chance for congressional action on a farm bill in exchange for what they believe would be a brief delay in taking up civil rights legislation.

A presidential go-ahead would signal an effort in the Senate, probably Wednesday, to call up the House-passed civil rights measure and put it in temporary storage while a wheat-cotton bill is debated.

This would delay the start of an expected lengthy civil rights filibuster until about March 2.

Awaiting expected House approval, the Senate was ready today for its final action that would send the $11.5 billion tax reduction bill to Johnson.

Johnson has been pushing hard for early action on civil rights. But party leaders ined to confer with him on legislative matters indicated they believe he may find it important to try to get a farm bill before the planting season starts March 1.

Wrapped up in controversial bill, on which Republicans thus far have blocked Senate action, is aid for the cotton textile industry and assistance for wheat growers.

Southern Democrats who oppose Johnson on civil rights but have been advocating support of him on other issues, are pressing strongly for action on the wheat-cotton bill.

Democratic senators from the wheat belt — and Republicans from the same areas — are saying privately that their reelection may well turn on the approval or rejection of the bill.

Johnson, courting presidential election support in both geographical sections, had an undeniable political interest in the cotton - wheat bill's fate. Sponsors said it would be ineffective for this election year's crops if its passage was delayed beyond March 1.

Lakes Seaway Rates Debated

MUSKEGON (AP) — A U. S. Senate subcommittee opened hearings here today on economic ailments of the St. Lawrence Seaway and Great Lakes ports.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., presided in the absence of Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio. He said the hearings at Muskegon today and Detroit on Wednesday are to probe whether the seaway is a victim of a "stacked deck" in shipping rates.

Subcommittee members are Sens. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., J. Glenn Beall, R-Md., Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt. Hart was the only senator present at Muskegon today.

Capt. Joseph V. Cook, Muskegon port director, charged Monday that inland carrier rates discriminate against Great Lakes ports. ## Senate Hearing Squabble Cut Off From TV

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bobby Baker refused to testify today what his duties were as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority and was immediately told this might result in his being cited for contempt of Congress.

The one-time page boy, who acquired wealth and power in some 20 years of working for the Senate, invoked his 5th Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination in refusing to answer most questions or to surrender subpoenaed documents.

Explodes Into Row
Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., suggested that Baker could "not possibly incriminate" himself in any way by testifying what his duties were as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

Clark said that Baker's refusal to say what his duties were "might well result in his being in contempt of the Senate."

The hearing in the packed Senate caucus room exploded into a row when Baker's lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, accused the Rules Committee of staging a television spectacular and asked that TV cameras be removed.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., demanded that Williams withdraw his statement about the committee or be expelled from the hearing room.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said Williams' statement was "totally and thoroughly unwarranted."

Williams said that, since the committee knew that Baker would refuse to surrender subpoenaed documents, or to answer questions, the hearing could serve no legislative purpose, but was being held solely to hold Baker up to obloquy before television cameras.

He requested that Baker be excused from appearing.

Cameras Banned
Baker resigned last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, after questions were raised about his outside business and financial dealings. His Senate job paid $19,600 a year.

At last Wednesday's hearing, Baker invoked his 5th Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination.

Williams said the committee was on notice that Baker would not turn over any of the documents subpoenaed by the committee.

Finally, the committee decided that the television cameras would have to be shut off. For about half an hour, they had shot the squabbling between Williams and the senators.

Witness Admits Advance Tip On Sinatra Snatch

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A rock'n' roll singer has electrified a federal courtroom by testifying he knew about the Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnap scheme about two months before it was carried out.

Earlier Monday Dean Torrence, 23, denied advance knowledge of the plot — and thereby, the judge said, committed perjury.

In his later version Torrence said defendant Barry Keenan told him of the plan in October and, three days after the alleged abduction, gave him about $25,000. But, he said, he gave it back.

In his first appearance Torrence, known for his hit record "Surf City," said he had considered Keenan his best friend for six years.

He said he had lent him money "so he could eat," adding that Keenan owed him $1,200.

He denied the money was to finance a kidnapping and that he knew of any such plan. He was excused as a witness.

Governor Cancels Lash Sentence At Dover, Del.

DOVER, Del. (AP)—Gov. Elbert N. Carvel has commuted the 10-lash whipping sentence imposed upon Talmadge R. Balser.

Superior Judge Stewart Lynch had sentenced Balser, 41, to 10 lashes and 15 years in the New Castle Correctional Institution after his conviction for a September 1962 robbery. The prison term still stands.

Gov. Carvel said Monday a recommendation of the State Board of Pardons to commute the sentence of lashes "is in the best interests of justice and the State of Delaware and I accept it."

Retired C&NW Engineer Dies

Wesley Roush, 79, retired Chicago & North Western Railway engineer, died at 8:30 p. m. Monday at his home, 325 S. 18th St.

Mr. Roush, who had lived in Escanaba since 1913, was born in Maddock, Ontario, Canada, June 26, 1884. He retired from railroad service nine years ago. He was a member of St. Patrick's Church and of the Brotherhood of Railway Engineers. His wife, Nellie, died Oct. 2, 1947.

Surviving are five daughters, Mrs. Alfred (Genevieve) Paulson, Escanaba, Mrs. Robert (Anne) Jelinek, Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. Edgar (Mae) Arntzen, Flint, Mrs. Peter (Helen) Meunch, Maitland, Fla., and Mrs. Ernest (Bette) Beauchamp, Escanaba, two sons, James, Green Bay, and Jack, Escanaba, one sister, Mrs. Mary Carver, Central Lake, Mich., 27 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Degan Funeral Home. Arrangements for services will be completed later today.

North Western Seeks Allies In Trackage Fight

The Chicago & North Western Railway is hoping for expression of support from Escanaba on its opposition to a proposal of the Soo Line Railway for Interstate Commerce Commission approval of trackage exchange with the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad. ICC will hear the application in Marquette starting Monday, March 16.

The Marquette city commission and the Marquette county board of supervisors have gone on record opposing the application as harmful to transportation service and employment in the area.

Escanaba's city council has not discussed the proposal yet in formal session, but city officials have discussed the proposal with representatives of the North Western and city councilmen have discussed it with a representative of the Soo Line informally.

Shorter Route

The Soo says that if it is permitted to acquire trackage rights over the LS&I from Marquette to Eben Junction, it can cut as much as 24 hours from the time for rail movement of freight from the Marquette Range to Chicago. The route from Marquette to Eben to Rapid River and thence south through Gladstone, Hermansville and Pembine would be in the public interest, the Soo pleads by providing speedier rail transportation. At present the Soo must go west in the U. P. and then south to Chicago.

The Milwaukee Road, the Chicago & North Western and the Manistique & Lake Superior Railroad are all opposing the Soo's application for trackage rights on the LS&I. They say that the Soo can't benefit by the trackage exchange except at their expense. This, say North Western officials, would hurt their line that it would be forced to retrench in the Upper Peninsula. That could mean loss of the "400" streamliner passenger service from Ishpeming to Chicago.

The long range implications of the trackage exchange aren't clear to Escanaba officials, they say, as they seek a decision on policy.

Ore Haul Is Prize

The iron ore haul from the Marquette Range is the great transportation prize at stake. LS&I controls it at points of origin because it is 75 per cent owned by Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., which operates the mines. But LS&I can't deliver ore, except to its dock on Lake Superior in Marquette. If it is to move overland to a dock on Lake Michigan for the short haul to South Chicago, or all-rail to Chicago mills, it must be interchanged with another carrier, either the North Western or the Soo.

The North Western pleaded in a 1958 ICC case when LS&I proposed to build an ore dock on Little Bay de Noc across from Gladstone, that it already has a rail line to the Marquette Range and a dock in Escanaba and that its facilities should not be duplicated by LS&I, operating over Soo trackage from Eben Junction. The ICC said on that occasion "With only negligible shipper interest shown, it is apparent that the principal reason for the South Shore (now Soo)—Soo Line—Marquette interchange is the diversion of traffic."

"We are of the opinion that the proposal fails to meet the standards of the act and would not be consistent with the public interest. The North Western, a carrier with all needed rail facilities, is entirely willing to provide the new type (pelletized) ore dock. However, the present proposal not only would require construction of a dock, but would require extensive rehabilitation of the Eben Junction-Rapid River line and additional connections at a cost exceeding $1.5 million."

"The proposals would undermine the North Western's revenues in Upper Michigan and produce a marginal operating line for that carrier. Economic conditions can be better fostered by use of existing facilities and affording the North Western an opportunity to demonstrate that it can meet the needs of the traffic."

Empire Ore

"The Commission would best serve the public in the Upper Peninsula, we feel, by attempting to preserve existing rail facilities against the dilution of this already light density traffic further, so as to prevent crippling losses to all of the carriers involved."

Because Inland Steel Co. and International Harvester Co. are partners in the big new Empire Mine on the Marquette range a large part of its pelletized iron production will seek a short haul route to Chicago. Such situations affect the current effort to reshuffle transportation facilities in the Upper Peninsula. Among the uncertainties are the start of all-rail shipment of ore from mine to steel mill which the industry seems to think is an eventuality for some ore.

Dies Of Injuries

MENOMINEE—Andrew F. Janusz, 48, of 2434 1/2 Elm St., Marinette, a molder at Menominee Foundry, Gidding & Lewis Machine Tool Co., died Sunday in St. Joseph-Lloyd Hospital of injuries suffered last week in an accident at the foundry.

Janusz suffered rib fractures and possible internal injuries when he slipped and fell between the pattern and the flask. He was taken to the hospital by Menominee County ambulance.

Business Mood Turns Brighter

NEW YORK (AP)—As President Johnson ends his first 100 days on the job, many businessmen say the business mood has brightened.

The consensus of business leaders interviewed on a cross-country tour appeared to be that whatever the precise reason and however long it will last, the business climate has turned sunnier.

This isn't a matter of partisan politics. It's a question of whether businessmen feel Johnson is running the country in a way that generates confidence and encourages business to expand, build new plants and make new jobs.

Ben S. Glimmer, president of Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co. in Atlanta, says his firm's capital spending plans for 1964 had been $403 million but have now been boosted to $413 million.

In Denver, Cris Dobbins, president of Ideal Cement Co., said, "We are laying out capital plans today that I'm quite sure we would not be considering if things hadn't changed."

The change could prove to be illusory, however, some businessmen insist. It could involve a presumption that Johnson is more conservative than he is, or that he is more progressive than he is, said Neil Roberts, president of the Denver U.S. National Bank.

Edwin P. Neilan, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, said recently that he is withdrawing support of Johnson because he feels Johnson juggled his budget to present a "false face of frugality."

Signs Encouraging

But whatever businessmen finally conclude when they've had more time to study Johnson, most of the leaders interviewed said that the signs so far have been encouraging.

President Elmer Engstrom of Radio Corp. of America, a member of the Business Council that advises presidents, sought to describe what's happened.

"In business, we look for go signs and stop signs," he said in his office. "We watch for signs whether the administration is friendly or unfriendly to business. These are not things that can be supported by physical facts. But we get the feeling that President Johnson is friendly, and this assessment is being strengthened."

Dr. Engstrom continued in "Mr. Johnson has shown himself to be determined. With the tax cut bill, there have been things done, you see."

In addition to the tax bill, Engstrom cites favorably Johnson's talk of economizing in government and reducing the federal deficit.

Entry Test Sept. 29 At Holy Name

Eighth graders planning to enter Holy Name High School in September should report to Holy Name for a placement test on Saturday at 9 a. m. The test results are a help in schedules for next year. The test takes approximately three hours.

If any student in the 10th, 11th or 12th grade plans to transfer to Holy Name next year, he or she should register between March 2 and March 6. Registration can be taken care of by contacting the principals, Brother Nicholas or Sister Catherine Dennis.

Bank Holdups Too Frequent

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

BANK HOLDUPS: Noting that banks are being held up almost as often as in the heydays of the Dillinger gang, a House subcommittee has charged that neither banks nor federal agencies are doing enough about it.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Dante B. Fascell, D-Fla., urged federal banking agencies to consider regulations that would require banks to take more steps to guard against robberies and embezzlements.

MORE SCHOOLING: To reduce unemployment, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz suggested Monday the age limit for compulsory education be extended two years so youngsters would have to stay in school until 18.

Most of the 3.5 million out-of-school teen-agers with jobs or hunting them should not be in the labor force, Wirtz told a symposium on unemployment arranged by the American Bankers Association.

PANAMA: The United States and Panama have reportedly resumed talks aimed at solving their dispute over the Panama Canal.

The two countries' ambassadors to the Organization of American States conferred at the Paraguayan Embassy during the weekend, a source said. The source would not say what formula for settlement was being discussed.

CUBA: An investigating committee has reported to the Organization of American States that Cuba sought to overthrow Venezuela's government and directed similar activities against other Latin American countries.

The committee was not called on to make recommendations nor did it.

ARMY POST: Daniel M. Luevano, deputy director of the California Department of Justice, will be named assistant secretary of the Army by President Johnson.

Luevano's selection as the first Mexican-American to be appointed to a subcabinet post was confirmed by White House sources Monday.

Fred Fisher Is Area Winner In Toastmaster Test

Fred Fisher, past president of the Bay de Noc Toastmasters Club of Escanaba, was winner of the Toastmasters International annual area speech contest at a banquet at Marquette's Monday evening.

Second place went to William L. Miller, educational vice president of the Bay de Noc Club and third place to Bob St. Louis of the Vacationland Club of Iron Mountain.

The area was also represented by the Speakeasy Club of K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base and by the newly formed Manistique toastmasters club, which has not been chartered nor named yet.

Sidney Cadieu, area governor, of the Vacationland Club was chairman and toastmaster was Gail Markell, expansion director from the Vacationland Club. Arthur Brien of the Bay de Noc Club was chief judge and the toastmaster and their wives participated in the program.

Greet Mawby

The Alger County Circuit Court room was the scene of an informal reception for Dr. Russell G. Mawby, assistant director of Extension for Michigan Monday afternoon. 4-H leaders and others met Dr. Mawby and discussed the Alger County 4-H program.

Rate Area High School Among Best In State

"One of the five best high schools built in Michigan during the last three years" is the way George E. Mills, consultant, Bureau of School Services, University of Michigan, describes the new Escanaba Area Public High School.

Mills is a member of an accrediting group from the U. of M. which recently completed its visit to the new Area High School. Mills examined the school in the areas of science, mathematics, physical education, finance and facilities.

"Having now visited the Escanaba High School on three occasions, I have nominated it as one of the five best high schools built in Michigan during the last three years," Mills reported to Stephen C. Baltic, principal. "It is designed for one of the better educational concepts—that is the school-within-a-school. It appears that it will be very functional when the instructional program concept for which it was designed is implemented."

Facility Is Praised
"Cost-wise, it is one of the less expensive facilities which has been built in the last three years to house adequately a comprehensive instructional program to meet first, the general or basic educational needs of both the college-bound and the non-college-bound boys and girls," Mills reported.

"Certainly, the youth of Escanaba, the faculty and administration of the high school, the administration of the school system, and the Board of Education and the Escanaba Area School District, and the residents of the Area School District, are to be congratulated on this significant facility for better education."

"The challenge now becomes to utilize this facility to the fullest of its unique capacity and within the limitations of reasonable financial support to provide 'better' high school and post high school education," Mills continued.

Math And Science
Mills mentioned specifically the excellence of the classroom facilities, the library and its program, the staff's high morale "tempered with a sober awareness of the very real problems involved" in utilizing the facility as an instrument of better education.

He found commendable the fact that 632 or 56 per cent of the 1128 students enrolled in the mathematics program; and that 455 are enrolled in the higher mathematics track with 177 in the practical mathematics track.

"The emphasis on physical fitness and carryover sports is most desirable," Mills found. "The intra-mural activities are noteworthy and should be continued and expanded if possible."

Mills recommended that "Immediate steps should be taken to improve the science education program for the 1964-65 school year." Only 25 per cent of the student body are enrolled in the science program. "This is to be lamented."

In reference to financing of an educational program Mills said that the need for adequate operational financing, specifically at the high school level, is increasingly evident.

"The Escanaba Area community schools now have the advantage of increased numbers of students," he wrote. "The Escanaba schools have the advantages of a reasonably good junior high facility and excellent high school facility. But there is no reason to think that Escanaba can operate a quality program for less than state average costs."

"The central question is what value does the Escanaba area place on its youth in comparison with and in competition with all the other youth in the state?"

"The Escanaba area now has the advantages of increased numbers (4,150 in kindergarten through 12th grade), the prosperized high school plant and enrollment (1,200) for best utilization of dollars spent. Escanaba schools are doing pretty well with what they now have but they could be excellent schools if an educational program was supported at the state wide average level," Mills concluded.

Cyprus, trouble spot on the world map, was first overwhelmed by Egyptian conquerors about 1500 B. C. It was ruled by nearly a dozen empires before attaining independence from Great Britain in 1960.

C&NW Offers To Sell Land

The Escanaba Planning Commission when it meets on Thursday afternoon will have before it for consideration an offer of the Chicago & North Western Railway to sell a parcel of land fronting on Stephenson Ave. north of the railway crossing.

The land has a frontage of 65 feet on Stephenson Ave., extends westerly 635 feet, and on the north side the strip is bordered by the Harnischfeger Corp. welding plant. The North Western is asking $7,500 for the property.

Other business to come before the Planning Commission for consideration:

A report of the zoning committee regarding re-study of the zoning of a four-block area south of Ludington St. at the 23rd St. intersection. The study was asked by the City Council.

Letter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeNome regarding the use of three lots in Block 11, City Center Addition No. 3. The DeNomes ask that the lots be designated for residential use.

Assistance of the city in preparing a surveyed plat for an area between 8th Ave. S. and 13th Ave. S.

A request to vacate a portion of 15th Ave. S. where it dead-ends at the Escanaba Country Club property.

Ticketed For Auto Accident

Robert O. Anderson, 35, of 26 Electric Ave., Wells, was ticketed by sheriff's officers for too fast for conditions, following an accident at 9:30 a. m. Sunday on County Road K-20 in Bay de Noc Township.

Officers said that a vehicle driven by Robert J. Brebner, 31, of 1424 N. 20th St., had just rounded a corner, skidded out of control and had gotten stuck on the shoulder when Anderson came along and ran into the rear of the stranded vehicle. Damage to Brebner's car was estimated at about $600. No one was injured.

Caspian Mine To Be Museum

A new lease on life has been granted the Caspian Mine.

After its opening in 1903, the Caspian Mine became a thriving symbol of Michigan's iron industry. Now that Bethlehem Steel Corp. has decided the five-acre site to Iron County, the area is again a beehive of activity.

Iron County Historical and Museum Society has held a dance and several workbees to raise the funds and labor needed to convert the engine house into a mining and historical museum. The society has also offered space in the proposed museum to the International Order of Lumberjacks, an Iron River organization founded to perpetuate the history of lumbering.

Parcel Service Starts March 1

United Parcel Service of 6061 Cicotte Ave., Detroit is starting its Michigan parcel service in the Upper Peninsula on Monday, March 2, President John Anthony of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce has been advised.

The services will be offered to commercial shippers and will give them some benefits and economies not available through parcel post and other such transportation services.

The serving starting March 1 is a test program inside all Michigan, but the system's trucks also are operating in Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Mississippi, Ohio and Kentucky.

Briefly Told

Delta Lodge No. 195 F.&A.M. will hold a special communication at the Masonic Temple Wednesday, Feb. 26, at 7:30 p.m. for work in the M.M. Degree, to be conducted by the Past Masters. Dinner at 6:30. Visiting Masons are invited to attend.

Earl Clabots, 39, Gladstone Rte. 1, was arraigned Monday before Justice A. J. Mortier in Gladstone on a conservation charge of killing a deer during closed season. He entered a plea of not guilty and trial was set for March 4. Clabots was arrested after Conservation Officer Charles Bowen found a dressed-out deer in the woods south of St. Jacques Saturday.

Henry Borns, 71, of Iron River, who miraculously lived through more than 40 hours of freezing temperatures while lying in a hollow log in a remote area of Stambaugh Township last week is the father of both Rev. Albert Borns, pastor of the Covenant Church in Gladstone, and of Miss Lois Borns, a teacher at the James T. Jones School, also in Gladstone.

Walter E. Nelson of 1311 N. 16th St., Escanaba, reported to police that his automobile was stolen about midnight yesterday. It is a 1961 Rambler station wagon, light blue, license XM 4464. Police are investigating.

Gary Krueger, 18, of Kinchee Air Force Base remains in critical condition at St. Francis Hospital where he was hospitalized Monday for injuries suffered when he struck a tank truck on U. S. 2, near the St. Jacques Hill. As of this morning the youth had not regained consciousness.

and is being extended to other states.

It plans every day pickup of parcels, automatic insurance, and delivery. It is reported starting with 7 customers in Escanaba. Maximum weight per parcel is 50 pounds and maximum for one shipper 100 pounds.

The U. S. Post Office Department has a monopoly on letter mail but when mailing weight 16 ounces or more it becomes parcel post and the rates on this service will increase 13 per cent on April 1.

Parcel post is limited by weight according to zoning and its rates are also zone based. Using Escanaba as Zone 1, Zone 2 covers all the U. P. and extends to Fond du Lac, Wis., and beyond is Zone 3. Parcel post rates are 30 cents for 5 pounds in Zone 1, 48 cents in Zone 2 and 53 cents in Zone 3. Weights are restricted to 40 pounds in mailing from 1st class postoffices in Zones 1 to 3 and to 20 pounds in Zones 3 through 8. Mailings from less than 1st class postoffice or two less than first class postoffices can be 70 pounds.

United Parcel Service's rates are reported lower than the parcel post rates.

Chips And Splinters

Contributions To Chips Welcomed

Lawrence (Larry) Farrell, former Escanaban who is executive secretary of the state government's retirement systems, says that a sentence in the state judges retirement act makes a portion of the vacancy-filling provision of the new State Constitution about useless. It was spotted in speculation on the successor to the late Wayne Circuit Judge Chester P. O'Hara. Only former State Supreme Court Chief Justice Leland W. Carr could be assigned temporarily to the post without losing his retirement benefits.

Also assignable to the interim post because he doesn't come under the act is former Munising Circuit Judge Richard C. Nebel, who became a judge when he was too old to qualify for membership in the system.

Let's Be Counted

The Democratic Administration has been playing havoc with the nation's radio and television industry for years. Through the Federal Communications Commission it has now proposed that present TV channels be converted to ultra high frequency, which would cost station owners millions of dollars.

It has also proposed that newspapers get out of both the radio and television business; and has proposed that the FCC control the number of commercials (advertisements) on both radio and TV.

It has proposed just about everything except a complete takeover by the Federal Government of the private electronic communications industry.

We'd like to know whether President Johnson believes in private enterprise or in complete domination of the industry by the FCC, which we consider one of the most powerful and arbitrary bureaucracies operating in Washington today.

We propose an immediate congressional investigation of the FCC and in the meantime we suggest that the President get out of the radio and TV business in Texas. He should be permitted to keep his ranch. It appears harmless.

Moonlighting And Jobs

President Johnson's proposal to curb unemployment by making overtime work prohibitively expensive has been shot in the heart by economist Sylvia Porter.

She says that the U.S. Labor Department's own statistics point out that there are 3,800,000 unemployed people in this country and that there are 3,900,000 people who are moonlighting, (holding two jobs.)

About three-fourths of the moonlighters, says Miss Porter, hold regular jobs in retail services and trades and in factories. About 15 per cent of postal workers are moonlighting.

Cutting out overtime by requiring payment of double time instead of time-and-a-half would increase unemployment rather than end it, says Miss Porter, because it would give jobholders more free time to work at a second job.

Those at the bottom of the educational and skill ladders—the marginal workers—would be thrown out of work and replaced by moonlighters; the job holders would get extra work and the unemployed would be in a worse fix than they are now.

The situation shows the complexity of the unemployment problem and should make the public wary of quickie solutions and remind it that poverty cannot be solved by impoverishing everyone.

Fishing Paradise

We would like to propose that the States of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota and the Government of Canada give serious consideration to the closing of all commercial fishing in Lake Superior.

The fishermen should be reimbursed for all of their property—boats, nets, etc., and even their homes, and the lake designated the exclusive province of the sports fishermen under state, federal and international controls.

It would create more jobs, improve the tourist industry and give millions of happy man hours to our expanding population of sport fishermen.

If the plan worked for Lake Superior it should be broadened, at least to cover part of Lake Michigan.

The Doctor Says:

Molds May Cause Disease

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q—What causes atopic dermatitis and how can I get rid of it?

A—It is frequently caused by the inhalation of various molds, including the very common penicillium from which penicillin is made. They are found in the soil and are less prevalent when the ground is covered with snow and most widespread in the fall when the ground is covered with rotting vegetation. The exact cause in your case can be determined by the usual skin tests. Desensitizing treatment is effective in most victims and is well worth trying.

Q—I have been taking Deprol tablets daily for my nerves for more than two years. Is it harmful to keep taking them?

A—You are taking a combination that contains two different kinds of tranquilizer. Two years is a long time to have to use such a crutch. Isn't it about time you got to the root of your problem and weaned yourself away from these potentially harmful drugs?

Q—What causes cerebral ischemia? What are the symptoms and the remedy?

A—Cerebral ischemia is a lack of blood supply to the brain and the chief symptom is fainting. It may occur as a result of getting up suddenly from lying down, from a sudden emotional shock or following a severe hemorrhage. It may also occur in early pregnancy or as a result of an overdose of various drugs, especially insulin, and from many other causes. No single remedy would benefit all these cases.

Q—My husband, 52, has amyotrophic lateral sclerosis and has been unable to work for the past four months. Is there any hope for his recovery?

A—This is a disease of the motor nerves of the spinal cord. It causes muscular wasting and atrophy. There is no hope for his recovery.

"What Happened to the Ammunition?"

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Though President Johnson lost his argument with Prime Minister Alec Douglas-Home over British long-term credits to Khrushchev, the United States will step up its economic pinprick program against Russia.

Next move: A State Department "trade war" to discourage foreign countries from buying Soviet goods.

As a first step, Secretary of State Dean Rusk's men are distributing world-wide selected Russian press comments on the unreliability of Soviet machinery, equipment and consumer products.

When a foreign country doubts these reports, as some do, Rusk's men furnish the doubters with photostatic copies of the original Soviet newspapers.

● Soviet Hearing Aids — "The Zaporozh'ye Pharmaceutical Administration has received 91 hearing aids for deaf people. When they were tested, only two hearing aids were found to be in working order, the remaining ones being defective. . . . The maximum service life of a hearing aid is two weeks, after which it goes for repair," Trud, Moscow.

● Soviet Trucks — Letter to Third by First Class Driver Ye. Ferentsev:

"To receive a new vehicle is the dream of every driver. Recently, I realized this dream. After seven years of work I changed for the first time to the new GAZ-606 Kolkhida Truck. But it soon developed that I had traded a horse for a crayfish.

"The vehicle has so many defects both of design and production, that it is difficult to list them all.

"The cab vibrates greatly and is falling apart at all welded seams. The nuts cannot be reached and turn together with the bolts. The gear shift level is so close to the steering wheel that I invariably hurt my hand. The fan refuses to turn. Valves burn out because the oil reaches them poorly. The engine burns 70 liters of gasoline per 100 kilometers, instead of the norm of 37. In general, everything is built unsuitably, inconveniently and barely holds together.

"And this is how I work; during half the shift my 'new' vehicle is parked somewhere on the side of the road and I lie under it, repairing something."

Answer from the editors of Trud:

"Comrade Ferentsev will have to forgive us for having been somewhat skeptical when we read his letter; wasn't he putting it on a bit thick? We checked and found that in addition to what had been said by Comrade Ferentsev, every one notes quick wearing out of the cylinders and piston group. The transmission lever system is complex and unreliable. The drive shaft quickly breaks down. The cab is not designed for work under winter conditions; it has no heater. It is even difficult to fill the radiator with water because of the airplug that forms inside it. The assembly of the engine as a whole is careless and it uses excessive gasoline and oil," Trud, Moscow.

● Soviet Hydraulic Lift Systems — "In the midst of spring sowing of the fields of Belorussia every day more than 860 Belarus tractors were out of commission. The cause of this was a defective hydraulic lift system," Pravda, Moscow, June 4, 1963.

● Soviet Piston Rings — "Last summer," says Comrade Artem'yev, "24 piston rings daries were sent by Kel'khotekhnik to our institute for checking. And the results? All without exception were worthless. It was decided to send a commission to the Lebedyansk plant. Another 60 rings were checked there. Only four of them were found to be of good quality. Therefore a technical conference was conducted; measures were worked out. The plant began to make new rings, but their quality barely improved."

Ekonomicheskaya Gazeta, Moscow.

The State Department theory is simple: The more we can pinch the Soviet economy, the less Khrushchev will have to spend on arms.

U. S. strategists figure the Russians have reached a point where they must throw more of their resources into the peacetime economy or run into serious continuing economic problems and food shortages.

U. S. diplomats want to apply enough economic pressure to encourage this trend.

Ask The Dentist

By DR. STEPHEN SHEFFREY and the Michigan Dental Association

When a dentist suggests to a parent that the child is getting more sweets than his teeth can stand, quite often the reply is this: "But doctor, my child doesn't get that many sweets! We never have candy in the house!"

It seems natural to think of sweets only in the form of candy. Thus the first question the dentist might ask is this: "Does the little fellow chew much gum?"

"You mean gum is bad for teeth?" asks the parent.

"The kind with sugar in it is."

"Oh heavens!" mourns the parent. "We've been giving him gum in place of candy!" And in the next breath: "How can that be? Gum isn't as sweet as candy, is it?"

"No, but consider the length of time that gum remains in the mouth. Candy is gone in about two gulps, while gum sweetens the mouth for an hour or more."

With high resolve, mom ends the boy's gum-chewing days.

It takes only 20 to 30 minutes for decay bacteria to double in numbers in the presence of sugar. Imagine the increased rate of tooth decay that occurs during the average gum-chewing session!

Miniature acid-measuring devices attached to teeth show that decay bacteria produce enamel-dissolving acid within two minutes after a sugar solution goes into the mouth, and they continue to live it up as long as sugar says in the mouth.

Eating Time Counts

By considering eating time, you can get a rough idea what type of sweets cause the most decay. Gum, caramels, suckers and the like remain in the mouth longer than "fast-eating" types of candy and tend to increase the decay rate.

Unfortunately, most of us prefer a lingering, rather than a fleeting, sweet taste. Is there any way we can enjoy this little pleasure and still keep sound natural teeth in our heads?

Many persons find an answer in the use of sugar substitutes (saccharin and cyclamate compounds). Decay bacteria can't digest sugar substitutes, so one can use them without fear of increasing the rate of decay.

Try sugar substitutes in your coffee sometime. You may not be able to detect a difference after expirimenting until you get the right degree of sweetness. Sweeten the children's cereal milk with it and hide the sugar bowl. You may save a dozen teeth.

Q Every time I get a tooth pulled I have bony pieces work out of gums for a month or more afterward. My wife never has this trouble. Why is that?

A Just another individual difference. Small bony pieces appear to be quickly absorbed by some persons. Other persons' body defenses appear more eager to kick the bony bit out rather than absorb them.

Sometimes a plate of bone may be bent and slightly cracked during extraction. This bone is solid and well-attached, and quickly knits in most persons.

In other persons, yourself for example, the piece of bone may detach and "fester out," particularly if the area becomes infected.

Your Income Tax Return

OTHER INCOME

Persons who receive income from sources other than wages should check the 1040-A instructions to determine if they are still eligible to use these forms. If not eligible, such income must be reported on the appropriate schedules of the Form 1040.

The Form 1040 has a schedule for all types of income the average taxpayer will receive. Part V of Supplemental Schedule B is labeled "Other Income or Losses." In this place is entered any item which does not have a specific schedule. This is the proper place to report amounts received as alimony, prizes, wagering income, etc.

Individuals who are eligible to defer the profit on the sale of their residences must complete a Schedule D and attach it to the return. Also for this purpose, Form 2119, "Statement Concerning Sale or Exchange of Personal Residence," may be obtained at your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

In cases where certain details are requested, such as for sick pay exclusion, or for travel expenses, you must prepare schedules and attach them to your return. If you wish, you may obtain forms designed for computing these items from your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

Most questions concerning your tax return can be answered by reading the instructions to the tax return. Where there is a doubt after reading the instructions, telephone your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

Medical And Dental Expenses

Special rules continue to apply to deductions for medical and dental expenses on Federal income tax returns.

Deductible expenses include amounts paid for diagnosis, prevention, cure, correction or treatment of a physical or mental defect or illness.

Payments for doctor, dentist, nurse and hospital bills, payments for eyeglasses, artificial teeth, hearing aids, braces, x-ray examinations or treatments and premiums for hospital and medical insurance are deductible.

Medicine and drugs may be included as medical expense only to the extent that they exceed one per cent (1%) of your income reported on line 9, page 1, of Form 1040. This limitation applies to all taxpayers regardless of age.

Once you have listed and totaled the deductible items, you must reduce the total by three per cent of your income reported on line 9, page 1, of Form 1040.

The 3% reduction, however, does not apply to medical expenses if either you or your spouse is 65 or over by the close of the taxable year, nor does it apply to medical expenses which you have paid for a parent who is 65 or over and qualifies as your dependent.

There is a maximum deduction for taxpayers claiming medical expenses. The maximum deduction is different depending on the type of return you file. The instruction booklet lists the maximum deductions allowable to all taxpayers.

Read the instruction booklet, call your local Internal Revenue Service Office, or if you still have a question, call your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

Child And Dependent Care

There is allowed a deduction not to exceed $600.00 for expenses paid by a woman or widower for the care of certain dependents. These expenses must have been necessary to enable the taxpayer to be gainfully employed.

Gainful employment means working for wages or operating your own business for profit.

The person for whom the care is needed must either be

Ann Landers

Drinkers Disrobe From The Heat

Dear Ann Landers: Why do people who have had too much to drink invariably peel off their clothing? I have yet to see a person who is loaded put anything ON — but an awful lot of drinkers seem to take things off.

Usually it's the shoes that come off first — particularly with women drinkers. Next, they shed stockings, belts, earrings and so on.

I've worked as a waitress for a catering service for 10 years and have had plenty of opportunity to observe party drinkers. I have always been baffled by the inevitable disrobing process which usually begins after three martinis. What causes it? — SARDINE PUSHER

Dear Pusher: Alcohol removes the inhibitions and produces a "don't give a darn" attitude. It also dilates the surface blood vessels which cause people to feel warm.

Combine these two factors and you have the complete answer to your question.

Dear Ann Landers: Three years ago I married a bachelor who was 20 years my senior. He was kind, gentle and considerate.

I knew the score when I went into this second marriage. Romance was not in the picture. It was pure companionship. There was one drawback — I had to accept his spinster sister since they had always made their home together. Before long I realized what a mistake I had made but never once did I complain or let him know how abusive and domineering she was.

Two months ago my husband a child under 12 years of age or a dependent who is physically or mentally incapable of caring for himself.

A married couple can only claim this deduction if a joint return is filed. The deduction must be reduced by the amount by which their combined adjusted gross income exceeds $4,500.00.

If you include in expenses paid, the salary of a maid or housekeeper who also cares for your child or dependent, you may deduct only that amount which was for the care of the dependent.

If you deduct an amount for child care expenses, you cannot include the same amount as medical expense. In no case may an amount be considered as both.

If you claim this deduction, attach a detailed statement showing the amounts expended and the person or persons to whom paid. Form 2441 may be obtained from the Internal Revenue Service for this purpose.

Your Form 1040 instruction booklet has information in it regarding child and dependent care deductions. However, if required, additional information can be obtained by calling your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

Q — I have heard that you can deduct health and accident insurance premiums on your income tax return. Is this true and if so, where do you claim the deduction?

A — You may deduct as a medical expense, premiums paid on accident and health insurance policies which provide reimbursement for hospitalization, surgical fees and other medical expenses. You may not, however, deduct premiums for policies providing reimbursement for loss of earnings. The premiums that qualify are treated as medical expenses and should be listed as such on your return.

For the answer to your question call your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

died. His sister refuses to move out of this house. My husband owned the house outright and left it to me in his will. She says it makes no difference. The house is all she has left of him and she will never move.

He left her a nice trust fund which will take care of her if she lives to be 100. Please tell me how to get rid of this shrew — short of calling the police? This I will not do. — MARTHA

Dear Martha: Offer to sell her the house at a price arrived at by an appraiser. If she refuses to buy the house from you, then go ahead and sell it and let the new owners call the police.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 16-year-old girl who is very mature for my age. I have been served liquor since I was 15 and no one has ever asked to see my I. D. card.

I'm madly in love with a boy who is 17. He has given me his class ring which means we are as good as engaged. I am going to marry him. Nothing in the whole world can stop me.

The problem is his mother. She hates me like poison. Whenever he wants the car to take me out she thinks up an excuse. Once when I was in her house and she wasn't there I accidentally burned a hole in the sofa. Like a dunce I called her the next day and offered to have the sofa repaired. Instead of being nice, and complimenting me on my honesty, she blew her top and ordered me never to come to her house again when she wasn't there.

I would give anything if I could get this woman to like me. Please give me some suggestions. — CHILLED

Dear Chilled: You are never going to get this woman to like you, so forget it. As a matter of fact, you aren't going to get ANY boy's mother to like you unless you straighten around, kiddo.

No mother in her right mind would approve of a 16-year-old girl who drinks, smokes and visits in her home when no adult is there. Where is your mother, Toots?

Patriotism Is Program Theme At Webster School

Patriotism was the theme of an elementary assembly program arranged by Mrs. Jeanne Broker, vocal music teacher, and the staff of the Webster School, where the program was presented Monday afternoon.

Instructional aspects of the program emphasized good citizenship, allegiance to country, history of and respect to the flag, the lives of Washington and Lincoln, humanitarianism, and the American heritage.

Tina Webber gave the Pledge to the Flag, Mary Walbridge the Gettysburg Address, Cheryl Royea and Michael Beck a ballad of the Lincoln penny, and Susan Carlson the thoughts of George Washington on courtesy.

Lions Sponsoring Square Dance

RAPID RIVER—A square dance party will be sponsored by the Lion's Club of the Rapid River area today, Feb. 25, at 8 p.m. at the Alton Hall in Ensign township. Elmer Dahn will be the caller. Party arrangements were made by Mike Majestic, Lion's president. A cordial welcome is extended to the public. Coffee and cake will be served.

Wash parsley and drain; pack lightly in a wide-mouth screw-top jar and refrigerate for good storage.

Ensign Area Has Active Home Ec Club

ENSIGN — The Town and Country Home Economics Club has Mrs. Charles Bowen as its chairman. This group holds monthly meetings at the members' homes. Each month they study a different lesson dealing with home making or consumer buying.

Projects this group has completed include supplying reading material for the Delta County Home, purchasing children's books for the Newberry State Hospital and supporting the Delta County Community Chest Drive. Future plans include learning the crewel embroidery and Swedish weaving methods and having the club's annual spring dinner.

Mrs. Frank J. Lundberg is the organization's secretary-treasurer. The next meeting will be held today, Feb. 25, at 8 p.m. Miss Rose Ellen Lamberg will be the hostess. Anyone living in the Ensign area, interested in joining this club, is asked to contact Mrs. Bowen at 474-6726.

Homecoming In Rapid River Is Gala Event

RAPID RIVER — A record crowd attended the homecoming game and dance at Rapid River High School. It was a gala affair with the threatened blizzard making only a brief appearance.

The winning of the basketball game with Nahma was a sweet victory. The homecoming dance followed the game and was highlighted by the crowning of the king and queen. The homecoming queen was Marlys Carlson and the king, Bob Bezzl. Wally Johnson, vice president of the student council crowned the royal pair and presented a dozen red roses to Queen Marlys.

The school's gym was decorated to form a fashionable winter park scene. Park benches were placed among wintry white evergreen trees. The decoration theme was "Frosted Fantasy." Marlys Carlson and Cheryl Talvite were in charge of the decorations.

The dance band, "4 Degrees North," was from Marquette. Mrs. Ray Phillips and her home economics classes served refreshments. The student council sponsored the affair with Bob Bezzl council president and Norman Slough, teacher adviser.

Lenten Tuna

TUNA PHILIPPINE STYLE is a delicious novelty.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Canned tuna, of course, is about the most popular fish on American menus. During the Lenten season it will appear many times on our tables and that's a very good reason for new and different recipes.

You'll like this Philippine recipe. Certainly different, but simple enough to prepare.

Most tuna used by American canners is caught in the North Pacific, the Indian Ocean, South Pacific and the South Atlantic. Albacore (white meat tuna) comes mainly from the North Pacific. According to the Tuna Research Foundation, about 44 per cent of the tuna packed in the United States is caught in Japan.

TUNA A LA PHILIPPINE
(Makes 6 servings)

- 1 cup diagonally sliced celery
- 1/2 cup sliced onion
- 1/2 cup sliced green pepper
- 1 tablespoon salad oil
- 3 cups cooked, cooled rice, well drained
- 2 cans (6 1/2 to 7 ounces each) tuna, drained and flaked
- 1/4 teaspoon each: salt, garlic salt, monosodium glutamate
- 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
- Dash pepper
- 3/4 to 1 cup water
- Oriental Sauce*

In large skillet, cook celery, onion and green pepper in oil until crisp-tender, about 3 minutes. Remove and set aside. In same skillet, quickly saute rice, tuna and seasonings about 2 minutes. Stir in water; add reserved vegetables. Cover and simmer about 5 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Garnish with omelet strips, if desired. Serve with Oriental Sauce.

*To prepare Oriental Sauce (makes about 2 cups): In saucepan, mix together 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1 teaspoon sugar and 1/4 teaspoon monosodium glutamate. Stir in 2 cups vegetable bouillon and 2 teaspoons soy sauce. Bring to boil and boil 1/2 minute.

A ONE-HOSS SHAY

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — The Robert Emmons family will long remember the day the family auto went on the blink unprompted times.

Coming home one evening the family battled snow drifts. The battery ran down and the car was running hot.

A city snow plow pushed them to a filling station where the battery was charged. Then a clamp came off the water hose and all the antifreeze was gone.

They drove home where the car ran out of gas. After they obtained fuel, they discovered a flat tire. Emmons drove to the filling station to have the tire fixed. On his way home he got stuck, the fan belt broke and the clamp on the water hose broke.

City Opposes TV Limitations

The Gladstone City Commission at its regular meeting Monday evening went on record as opposing any possible legislation which would limit television viewing selections.

Action by the commission came as the result of a recent announcement that a proposal is under consideration by the Federal Communications Commission to prohibit a cable system within the Grade A contour of a television station from duplicating that station's programming. The local agency, Delta TV Cable Co. falls in the Grade B area.

The commission's action will be forwarded to representatives in Washington, D.C.

In other business, the commissioners also went on record as supporting the Soo Line Railroad for its use of trackage of the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad between Marquette and Eben Junction to give it a shorter route to the south.

Commissioners also authorized purchase of a new boiler feeder pump for the municipal power plant in the amount of $11,488.

After some discussion on the subject of advertising with the Michigan Tourist Association it was decided to have a representative of the organization attend the next regular meeting of the commission to discuss the program before making any final decisions on the matter.

Members of the commission also resolved to grant a 20-year lease to the Beef Breeders Assn. for land on the Gladstone Bluff as a site for the new livestock auction. The lease would cost the association $50 annually.

The commission also adopted a resolution opposing a request by the Pennsylvania Railroad to the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to abandon 223 miles of railroads in Lower Michigan, and of requests by the New York Central and Michigan Central Railroads to halt service between Gaylord and Mackinac, and by the Detroit & Mackinac Railroad to abandon its service between Rogers City and Cheboygan.

Copies of the resolution will be sent to Attorney General Frank J. Kelley, the ICC and the Cheboygan Chamber of Commerce.

In other actions, the commission authorized City Manager H. J. Henrikson to advertise for bids on workmen's compensation insurance.

Rotarians Hear Story Of Mining

An interesting and informative talk on the evolution in the iron mining industry was presented by James Villar, senior metallurgist at the research laboratory of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., at the Gladstone Rotary Club meeting Monday.

Villar explained the process involved in the pelletizing of iron ore and said that the Cleveland Cliffs Co. was processing more iron ore than any other firm to maintain and keep the world market ahead in its fight against imports from South America.

Art Moberg and Walter Nelson of Escanaba were guests at the meeting and William Druding and Neal Storn were Gladstone High School student guests.

Asparagus Gives Verve To Lenten Season Luncheon

Lenten luncheon has new sparkle whenever this hearty asparagus soufflé is served. Easy to make and guaranteed not to fail, asparagus soufflé is in perfect company when served with a crisp tossed green salad, warm golden twist brown and serve rolls, and a cup of steaming coffee.

- ASPARAGUS SOUFFLE
- 1 (10-ounce) package frozen asparagus spears
  - 1 cup finely crushed herb-seasoned stuffing
  - 1 (10½-ounce) can condensed cream of asparagus soup
  - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
  - 4 eggs, separated
  - ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar

Chop asparagus spears into small pieces and let them thaw. Combine stuffing crumbs, soup, lemon juice, and asparagus pieces. Beat egg yolks and stir into asparagus mixture.

Beat egg whites until frothy. Add cream of tartar and continue beating until stiff, but not dry. Fold into asparagus mixture.

Pour into a buttered 1½-quart casserole. Bake in a slow oven (325 F.) for 1¼ hours or until a knife inserted in center comes out clean. Makes 6 servings.

Holy Name Library Marks Book Week

The library at Holy Name High School is sponsoring the celebration of Catholic Book Week. Ever since its inception 23 years ago, this week has been designed to focus attention on good books, not only good Catholic books but all good books.

The theme this year is "Read and Unite Our Changing World." Each homeroom has been invited to submit posters carrying on the theme. Poems and essays are also being submitted. These will be viewed and judged at the National Catholic Library Convention in Detroit in Easter Week. Another project meeting with success is the National Catholic High School Paperback Book Fair.

In This Corner

with Ray Crandall

The drawings for the Class D district tournament that will be staged next week at Rock will be held Sunday at 3 p. m. at the Lion Club in that community . . . The teams competing will be Eben, Bark River, Perkins, Rapid River, Trenary and Rock . . . Tourney games will be played March 4, 6 and 7.

Joan Gillis spilled a big 614 series at the Midway Lanes in Gladstone, rolling games of 206, 220 and 188 while Esther Lamberg bowled an all-spare game.

Marquette's Bruce Forstrom, 6 foot 6 inch senior center, scored 33 points to lead the Redmen to a 67-65 decision over Gwinn in their final game of the season . . . Forstrom boosted his season production to 407 and Marquette ran its season record to 11-4 . . . Gwinn outscored Marquette by three field goals but the Redmen converted 19 of 25 free throw opportunities to make up for it.

The Mass Rockets clinched at least a share of the Porcupine Mountain conference crown by beating Ewen 65-54 . . . Mass has a 10-2 conference record and is 15-3 overall for the season.

Bessemer appears headed for all losing season . . . The Speed Boys lost their 14th straight to Ironwood, 67-41, and close out their campaign against Superior East Friday night . . . Wakefield is assured of at least a share of the Michigan-Wisconsin conference title after defeating Ashland 69-57 . . . If Wakefield downs Hurley Friday night the Cards will finish alone at the top of the standings . . . If Hurley wins, Wakefield will finish as co-champ with Ironwood.

Ontonagon's Larry Makimaa, 6 foot 3 inch senior center, smashed his own school scoring record when he pumped in 38 points to lead his team to a 76-66 triumph over Calumet in Copper Country conference action . . . Makimaa had set the Ontonagon record with 36 points two weeks ago against Lake Linden.

Marquette Baraga's five game victory string was snapped by Negaunee, 70-50, Friday night and the Royals were clipped again Saturday night, 71-60, by Soo Loretto . . . Negaunee held Bishop Baraga, a team that had a 71.6 average entering the game, to 17 field goals.

Soo Loretto wiped out a 50-41 deficit with a torrid fourth quarter rally to upset Rudyard 60-58 . . . The setback was only the second suffered by the defending U. P. champion Bulldogs this season . . . Ron Hintz scored 27 points in a losing effort for Coach Bill Howe.

Negaunee St. Paul Dropped To Second

By The Associated Press

Port Huron St. Stephen forged ahead of Negaunee St. Paul to regain the Class D lead in The Associated Press eighth weekly high school basketball poll.

St. Stephen received four more votes than St. Paul from the AP's panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

Meanwhile, Lansing Sexton's juggernaut remained ahead of Detroit Northwestern in Class A; River Rouge is still tops in Class B, and Grosse Pointe St. Paul — which took its third straight Detroit Catholic League title Sunday — dominated Class C voting.

There were some other significant changes this week. Grand Rapids South moved from ninth to sixth place in the Class A ratings. And Detroit Northern, twice victor over Detroit Northeastern last week, made the Top Ten for the first time this year.

In Class B, Sandusky jumped from seventh to fourth place, and Allegan moved from 10th to seventh. Dexter, sporting a perfect 15-0 record, took over the ninth spot as Ithaca fell from the coveted listings. Rudyard, a loser to Class C Sault Ste. Marie Loretto, fell from sixth to 10th.

There was a big shakeup in Class C. Galien moved into second place, nosing out Detroit St. Charles. Akron-Fairgrove and Addison, seventh and eighth respectively last week, moved into a tie for fourth place.

Loretto jumped from 10th to sixth place. Wakefield, New Haven and Coleman all fell into the second division. The only newcomer is Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart, now tied for 10th place with Muskegon Christian.

Bloomington moved from ninth to seventh place in Class D. Mass and Saginaw St. Joseph tied for seventh last week, dropped to eighth and ninth places respectively.

THERE'S A TIME FOR TALKING AND . . .

COME OUT... FIGHTING!

LISTON CLAY

IT'S OUR GLESS SONNY IS MORE THE MAN OF ACTION AND WILL GET THE JOB DONE IN ROUND 4!

MURRAY OLPERMAN

Little Betting On Fight With Liston Favored 7-1

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, the brooding destroyer, is an overwhelming 7-1 favorite—with virtually no betting—to burst the fabulous bubble of the brash bard from Louisville, Cassius Clay, tonight.

Most observers predict the lights will go out for the boastful, poem-spouting challenger within minutes, perhaps seconds, after the scheduled 10 p.m. EST opening gong in Miami Beach's pink-and-blue Convention Hall.

The fastest knockout on record in a heavyweight championship is one minute, 28 seconds, scored by Tommy Burns over Jem Roach March 17, 1908, and many are convinced this old mark will be broken.

"I won't be trying for a record, but I am for a quick knockout," Liston said. "It will be over as soon as I catch him." Sudden demolition has become the theme of Liston's awesome fists.

He has knocked out his last three opponents — Albert Westphal of Germany and former titleholder Floyd Patterson, twice — in the first round, using a total of 6 minutes, 14 seconds.

The 23-year-old Clay, who says he "floats like a butterfly and stings like a bee," refused right up to the zero hour to assume the role of a man waiting for the modern guillotine.

Clay Says Eight

"I'll outbox him in seven rounds and knock him out in the eighth," he insisted, adding his favorite poetic twist: "I'm predicting eight to prove I'm great."

His never-ending spiel of "I'm the king—I'm the greatest!" has failed to make a dent however, on boxing fans, who must shell out on a scale of $20 to $250 for one of the 16,000 seats. Indications were that they would stay away in droves.

Needing $800,000 to break even on the venture, promoter Bill MacDonald, the self-made Miami millionaire, said sales had reached only $330,000 and that only a last minute rush for the ticket windows could save him from a financial bath.

Meanwhile, a vast closed circuit television network, covering 269 theaters and arenas in the United States and Canada, is expected to gross between $4 and $5 million, assuring both fighters a handsome pay day.

If the over-all figure reaches $5 million, Liston, who also has a half-share in the parent promotional setup, stands to earn $1,360,000. Clay could draw $800,000, not bad for a young man who was an amateur four years ago on Uncle Sam's Olympic boxing team and who has literally gabbed himself to the threshold of the sports greatest prize.

Publicity Campaign

The bout will be televised to Europe via satellite communication and will be broadcast nationally by the American Broadcasting Company.

A victory for the Louisville Lip—regarded as something in the miracle category—would provide one of the upsets of the century and one of the most astounding success stories in sports history.

Cassius acknowledges that he patterned his publicity campaign after that of the late wrestler, Gorgeous George, and started "throwing the jive"—as he put it—to attract attention.

Now he has banged his cane against the ground and repeated "I am the greatest!" so often that he seems to believe himself that he is unbeatable—the golden boy of the ring.

Clay is a superb-looking athlete, 6-foot-3 and at 215 the heaviest of his career, but by comparison with the dynamite that Liston carries around in his gloves Clay has a powder-puff punch.

There are those who believe that Liston could drop his hands and let Cassius whale away at him for a full round, without ever being dropped to the canvas.

Angelo Dundee, Clay's trainer, cites Cassius' attributes as "a good left hand, a good pair of legs and lightning reflexes." "He'll make a monkey out of Liston," Dundee said.

Liston is a frightening bulk of a man, 6-1 with an 84-inch reach 46½ inch chest when expanded, biceps and neck that measure the same—17½ inches.

He has a left hook that lands with devastating force—it was this blow that smashed Patterson into senselessness both times—and a right hand that is frightening.

Decisions Rare In Title Bout

By MURRAY ROSE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Every heavyweight title fight in nearly nine years has ended in a knockout. The last one to go the distance was champion Rocky Marciano's 15-round decision over Ezzard Charles, on June 17, 1954.

If undefeated Cassius Clay should upset champion Sonny Liston he will join an elite group of three heavyweight rulers who had won all of their pro fights before ascending to the throne. The only others were John L. Sullivan, Marciano and Ingemar Johansson.

Joe Louis holds the record of first round knockouts in heavyweight title fights. The Brown Bomber belted out five challengers in the first round. Sonny Liston has two—both over Floyd Patterson.

The last big upset in a heavyweight title fight was Jersey Joe Walcott's seventh round knockout of Ezzard Charles in Pittsburgh, July 18, 1951. Walcott had been beaten twice before by Charles and was a 6-1 underdog in their third clash. Jimmy Braddock was a 10-1 long shot the June 13, 1935 night when he dethroned Maxie Baer on a 15-round decision in New York.

The referee will be wired for

Under the new rules, if either Clay or Liston is on the floor from a punch when the bell ends a round, the referee will continue the count. If the downed fighter is counted out in the rest period, the knockout will belong to the round which had just ended. Most of the betting by the professional gamblers is on whether the fight goes more than five rounds. It's even money that it doesn't go beyond five.

Eskymos Meet Marquette In Tourney Game

The host Escanaba Eskymos drew Marquette as their opening opponent in the Class A District basketball tournament which will be staged at the Esby gym next week.

The Eskymos and the Redmen will tangle in the tournament opener at 7:30 Wednesday, March 4.

Meeting in the other semifinal game on Thursday, March 5, will be Menominee and Sault Ste. Marie, starting at 7:30.

The championship game will be played Saturday, March 7, beginning at 8 p.m. The winner will carry Upper Peninsula colors into a regional tournament at Grand Rapids.

Escanaba and Marquette have met twice during the regular season with Marquette winning both games by a narrow margin. The Redmen won here on Nov. 22 by a 67-60 score. In the return game at Marquette on Jan. 17 the Redmen won 68-64.

Sault Ste. Marie is the champion of the Great Lakes Conference, of which Marquette and Escanaba are members. Menominee does not belong to a conference, playing an independent schedule which does not include Soo or Marquette.

Escanaba and Menominee play once during the regular season, the Eskymos winning 70-51. Escanaba also played Soo once during the season, bowing 74-49.

U.P. Fighters Lose Decisions

LOUISVILLE—Two Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves champions, both from Menominee, lost decisions in their opening bouts in the national Golden Gloves boxing tournament here Monday night.

Dick Schomer, 118 pounder, dropped a split decision to Ruben Peters of Billings, Mont.

Ted Beaudou, 160 pounder, bowed in three rounds to Gary Brown, fighting for the Denver team, a veteran of four national tournaments who carried a 90-10 record into the bout. He is 26 years old and a native of Provo, Utah.

Winning decisions for the Kenosha team were Charlie Buss at 135, Jim Caldwell at 147, John LeTourneau at 175 and Charles Singleton, heavyweight.

Sports In Brief

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)—Senior John Stricker of Saginaw has been elected captain of the 1964 Central Michigan University baseball team.

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Former Detroit Lion halfback Lew Carpenter Monday announced his retirement as a player with the Green Bay Packers. Carpenter, who broke in with the Lions in 1954, said he will join the Minnesota Vikings as an end coach.

Luis Olmo, former Brooklyn Dodger outfielder, scouts for the Philadelphia Phils.

Kentucky leap-frogged over Michigan, which lost its third game in 21 last week. The Wildcats had 358 points, the Wolverines 332.

Kentucky received two first place votes and Michigan one. Oregon State, ranked sixth, was given the other one.

Duke held fourth place despite its loss last week to Wake Forest. Wichita moved up a spot to fifth, displacing Villanova, whose defeat by St. Joseph's sent the Wildcats reeling to eighth. Davidson also rose one notch to seventh.

DePaul maintained its ninth position, but Drake, beaten by Cincinnati, fell from the Top Ten altogether. Loyola of Chicago, No. 1 early in the season, returned to the select list as Drake's replacement in 10th.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. UCLA (38)	416
2. Kentucky (2)	356
3. Michigan (1)	332
4. Duke	158
5. Wichita	225
6. Oregon State (1)	195
7. Davidson	136
8. Villanova	124
9. DePaul	95

Drive On Drunk Drivers Mapped

LANSING (AP) — A crack-down on drunk drivers was ordered by Gov. George W. Romney today as the first step to be taken to help halt a growing slaughter on Michigan's highways.

Romney called an emergency meeting with Secy. of State James Hare, State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs and members of the State Safety Commission to consider the problem.

Romney said he would:

- Send a letter to all judges in the state urging a crackdown on drunk drivers.
- Send a special message to the legislature asking immediate action on a bill for uniform chemical test for persons charged with drunk driving.
- Ask the secretary of state and the attorney general for advice on possible changes in the statute to firm up present laws on drunk driving.

Hare told Romney his figures show that in 53 per cent of all fatalities, the persons involved were drinking before driving.

He estimated the total could run as high as 60 per cent if all the facts were available.

"It is a tremendous problem," said Hare. "The greatest one we have to face."

Childs reported that the highest accident incident period is from midnight to 3 a.m. on Sunday, after bars close. He confirmed that more than half of the fatal accidents involve drinking.

Hare was told by the governor to try some test cases on drivers with marginal records.

"We have some cases of drivers with horrible records but because the law is not clear we are not able to take their licenses away," Hare said. "The law is a never-never land in this respect. We'd like to try some test cases and see how we make out."

Romney told a press conference this morning he did not intend to declare an actual "state of emergency" in Michigan to deal with the traffic accident problem.

He said it appeared that, although the problem is a serious one, it is not a situation in which declaring a state of emergency would provide the answer.

Robert Danhof, legal aide to the governor, earlier had been checking on Romney's legal powers to declare an emergency. Romney had said he did not know just what form a possible proclamation might take.

Hoover, 89, Has Bad Setback

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover has suffered a "serious setback" in health, a spokesman said today.

A hospital room has been reserved for the 89-year-old former chief executive, who resides in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

The family of the 31st president said last June that his strength had been ebbing from anemia caused by intestinal bleeding.

He had undergone surgery the previous August at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center for removal of a cancerous tumor of the intestinal tract.

Hoover had been relatively inactive in recent months. One of his last public appearances was at a reception in May honoring Maj. Gordon Cooper Jr., the astronaut, for his 22-orbit flight.

Today doctors described his condition as "fairly satisfactory."

They said:

"The present illness is due to bleeding from the right kidney, probably secondary to a kidney stone."

"The clinical picture has been complicated by a respiratory infection."

'Peyton Place' Author Dies Of Liver Disease

BOSTON (AP)—Grace Metalious, author of the controversial novel, "Peyton Place," died today at Boston's Beth Israel Hospital. She was 38 years old.

A spokesman for the hospital said death was caused by a chronic liver disease.

The then-unknown wife of a Gilmanton, N.H., school teacher leaped into national prominence overnight by her frank portrayal of intimate details of village life in a New England community.

Mrs. Metalious was twice married to her school teacher husband, George, and twice divorced, and was the mother of three children. Between her first and second marriage to George Metalious, she was married for a time to T.J. (Jack) Martin, a Laconia, N.H., disc jockey.

Lost 30 Hours, Boy, 9, Found In Brush Shelter

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP) — Dennis Hargus, 9, went to an Indian guide winter pow-wow and passed the time that would have been tough on guides of old.

Dennis was found Monday after spending 30 hours lost in mountain country where the temperatures dipped to 12 degrees.

The third grader from Mesa, Ariz., was at YMCA camp 13 miles south of Prescott on a father-son outing Sunday when he decided "to find some deep snow."

He left camp at 9:30 a.m. and at nightfall still had not returned. Some 300 persons set out to find him.

Late Sunday afternoon Dennis built a shelter of logs and brush and "went to bed early."

He was dressed in a sweatshirt, trousers and low-cut shoes and carried no food.

Two men on horseback found him Monday afternoon. Apparently suffering only from a few scrapes and bruises.

"I sure am tired," said Dennis' only reaction.

But his father was more emphatic about the incident.

"It was a miracle," said William Hargus.

Elderly Priest Badly Burned In Honolulu Blaze

HONOLULU (AP)—An elderly Buddhist priest severely burned on the lawn beside his temple Sunday was the victim of an unfortunate accident, say Honolulu police investigators.

Officers have been unable to question the Rev. Kakou Okimura 78, who is in critical condition in a Honolulu hospital with severe burns covering his body from the waist down. But the priest reportedly told his doctor he had poured some gasoline over some religious paraphernalia and the flames blew back at him when he struck a match.

Relatives who found the priest six hours after the incident said it is the practice in their sect to dispose of worn robes and religious articles by fire.

competent soldier, well educated both in military and cultural matters—a man who knew the problems in his corps area, and had definite plans and positive intentions of carrying them out.

Q—Would you think that there might be a higher degree of aggressiveness in the Vietnamese forces now than before?

A—That would be pretty hard for me to say at this distance, but I would say that General Khanh has pretty well demonstrated his military capabilities. He's carried out highly successful operations against the Viet Cong.

Q—The Viet Cong seem to be operating in larger units now, in perhaps more aggressive form, what had been called Phase II in guerrilla war doctrine.

A—You mean in the battalion-size team?

Q—Yes. What significance do you see in this? Doesn't this mean that their capabilities have increased in arms and men, as well as perhaps their confidence?

A—I think that size of the attack is part of the concept on which the Viet Cong and Ho Chi-minh, and men of the other Communist forces, have operated for years.

Getting New Weapons

In other words, they start off with small group attacks. Then, as the situation develops in what they think is their favor, they increase the size of the attacking groups and the force of the attack.

I think that this doctrine is behind the battalion-size attack, rather than an improvement in the weapons situation, although I am sure they are getting new weapons.

Q—Since you were out there a pattern appears to have developed, with Viet Cong Communist terrorist attacks aimed directly at the Americans for the first time. How do you see the significance of this? Do you think it is a concerted campaign? And, if so, what could be their motive?

A—I could only hazard a guess that perhaps the Viet Cong feel that bringing this sort of attack home to the Americans who are stationed in Saigon may be a means of harassing and discouraging them.

Q—The role of the U.S. Marines in South Viet Nam has not been highlighted quite as much, as the Army Special Forces. What can you say about this?

A—Well, we're doing a very definite job in South Viet Nam. For the past two years we've had a reinforced helicopter squadron up in the more mountainous areas.

Doing Big Job

They've flown approximately 52,000 sorties for a total of some 32,000 flight hours. In the execution of this mission they have lifted over 8.5 million pounds of cargo and approximately 200,000 passengers, the bulk of whom were combat troops.

This gives you some idea of the job they have been doing.

Q—Speaking of helicopters, reports out of there seem to indicate the choppers are quite vulnerable even to the rather crude weapons that the Viet Cong use. What was your impression?

A—Well, my impression is that when you compare the number of flights that have been executed by helicopters, both Army and Marine, and the number of combat missions that have been flown, with the number of helicopters that have been brought down by enemy fire, the number is extremely small—surprisingly so, in view of the comparatively slow speed of the helicopter.

tionment article of the document by alleging it conflicts with another, the "equal protection" article.

To permit one section of the Constitution to clash with another, they argued, would be "self-destructive" to a document which was approved by the voters.

INJUNCTION ASKED

DETROIT (AP)—Two college instructors asked U. S. District Court Monday to throw out this year's election of Michigan's 19 congressmen, charging the state's congressional apportionment is unconstitutional.

The action was brought in a request for an injunction against the election and through an amended petition bearing on a similar suit brought by the same plaintiffs in 1962. The 1962 case has lain dormant.

The plaintiffs, Donald A. Calkins and Karl Jacobs, instructors at Henry Ford Community College in suburban Dearborn, charged that Michigan's congressional districting violates the "equal protection" clause of the 14th Amendment.

The new court action by Calkins and Jacobs, aimed at a districting plan adopted in 1963, followed upon the U. S. Supreme Court's decision of last week holding that the State of Georgia's congressional districting violates the Constitution.

The Calkins-Jacobs case is based on the "one man one vote" principle claiming that present districting deprives larger centers of population from a fair deal in elections.

Attorney Theodore S. Sachs, counsel for Michigan AFL-CIO president August Scholle in a current federal court case against Michigan's state legislative districting, represents Calkins and Jacobs.

Exiled Mrs. Nhu Branded Outlaw; Arrest Ordered

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, former powerful First Lady of South Viet Nam, has been declared an outlaw, a Justice Ministry spokesman said today.

The order has been issued for her arrest, he said. He refused to discuss details.

Mrs. Nhu has been living in exile in France with her four children since a Nov. 1 coup overthrew her brother-in-law, Ngo Dinh Diem.

In Paris, she called the action "the height of cynicism." Spokesmen for the Foreign and Interior ministries said the order is a legal technicality which could not be executed unless Mrs. Nhu returned here, they said.

Cost Of Drugs Discussed At Kiwanis Meeting

Prescription drug costs are not too high, compared with other items of personal expense, Escanaba Kiwanians were told Monday by August Altese of the Dehlin Drug Store, Gladstone, in a discussion of pharmacy operations.

Expenditures for drugs total around four billion annually, but the same people spend 7.6 billion for tobacco, 10.2 billions for alcoholic beverages, and 35 billion on clothes, Altese said.

Manufacturers, wholesalers and retail druggists must share in the prescription prices.

The manufacturers put approximately half of their profits back into research; the wholesaler, who provides the convenient source for the retailer, must keep a large inventory on hand; and the local druggist, who has spent $7,000 to $12,000 on education to become a registered pharmacist, must keep 2,500 basic items in stock to fill prescriptions.

Altese quoted several examples to show that the cost of medical treatment has actually decreased in recent years. In 1928, a mastoid affliction often cost as high as $1,000 in medication, plus the possibility of surgery. Effective mastoid treatment today can be obtained for $15 to $20, with no surgery. New drugs in the treatment of pneumonia make possible a quicker cure and a more prompt return to work with a resulting smaller loss in wages.

Fewer pharmacists are graduating from Michigan universities, and many of these qualified persons go into research, leaving a small percentage to fill the needs of drug stores throughout the state, the Gladstone pharmacist said.

New Influenza Vaccine Tested

ANN ARBOR (AP)—University of Michigan scientists say they have developed a new influenza vaccine that eliminates bothersome side effects of the current vaccine.

The vaccine probably will not be on the market for at least two years, said Prof. Albert V. Hennessy, but it eventually will be unable on a far wider scale than vaccine now used against influenza.

Hennessy said the new vaccine eliminates the 102-103 degree fever experienced by many influenza patients within the first 24 hours after vaccination.

Chute Jumping Fatal To Eight

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — Four Ft. Bragg paratroopers were killed and eight others injured during a mass parachute jump today at Holland drop zone on the Ft. Bragg reservation, military authorities announced.

They said the accident occurred when a C130 aircraft apparently lost altitude. The wing of the plane struck a group of descending parachutists, who had jumped from another plane.

The 18th Airborne Corps public information office said names of the victims were withheld pending notification of kin.

Three were members of the 504th Infantry. Another was affiliated with the Strike Command.

The jump involved some 1,500 men, about 60 to a plane. The aircraft flew in formations of three.

Charles E. Wood

Death Claims Charles Wood

Charles E. Wood, 73, of 525 S. 14th St., died at 9:40 a.m. today in St. Francis Hospital where he had been a patient since Feb. 13 when he suffered a stroke while shoveling his sidewalk.

Mr. Wood was born Jan. 14, 1891 in Foster City, and came to live in Escanaba at the age of eight. He had been a resident since that time.

He was employed by the Chicago North Western Railway until the time of his retirement in 1959. Mr. Wood was a member of St. Patrick's Church and of its Holy Name Society, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, C&NW Veteran's Assn., and a charter member of American Legion Post 82. At the time of his death he was adjutant of the local Post.

The body was taken to the Ailo Funeral Home where friends may begin calling after 3 p.m. Thursday. The Daughter's of Isabella will recite the Rosary at 4 p.m. Thursday and the Parish Rosary will be conducted at 8 p.m.

Funeral services will be conducted from St. Patrick's Church at 9 a.m. Friday with the Rev. Msgr. Martin Melican officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Military rites will be conducted by the American Legion.

Cyprus Dispute Debated In UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council scheduled more Cyprus debate today as its six nonpermanent members sought to break the deadlock and Cypriot President Makarios threatened to seek a special session of the General Assembly.

The afternoon council meeting was called to evaluate Secretary-General U. Thant's private peacemaking efforts in the face of continuing bitter hostility between the island's Greek Cypriot majority and its Turkish Cypriot minority.

The council president, Carlos Alfredo Bernardes of Brazil, said there was no evidence Thant had been able to reach agreement with Cyprus, Britain, Turkey and Greece in a week of talks on his proposals, which include an international peace force for the troubled east Mediterranean island.

The six nonpermanent council members met Monday night and decided to seek a compromise. The six are Bolivia, Brazil, Czechoslovakia, the Ivory Coast, Morocco and Norway.

TRAGIC ENDING

DETROIT (AP) — A vacation and family reunion for a Detroit couple and their airline stewardess daughter ended in tragedy today when the airplane bringing them home crashed in Lake Pontchartrain in Louisiana.

There were no signs of survivors among the 56 persons aboard the Eastern Air Lines four-engine jet, which had just taken off from New Orleans on a flight from Mexico City to New York.

Carl A. Byczynski, 47, his wife, Sophie, and their daughter, Joan, were returning from a four-day vacation in Mexico.

Joan, an Eastern stewardess who lived in her home base of Atlanta, Ga., was on vacation so the family could make the Mexico trip together.

The Byczynski couple were natives of Cheboygan. Byczynski was a welder for American Standard Corp.'s industrial division in Dearborn.

Jimmie Larson Calls Officers In Bank Holdup

Jimmie Larson, son of Mrs. Esther Larson, 326 Chippewa, was a fast-acting teller who alerted police while four men pulled a masked robbery at the Little Fort Bank and Trust Co. in Waukegan, Ill.

Larson, a former Manistique resident and Daily Press news carrier sounded an alarm from beneath his teller's cage, but the bandits were in and out of the bank in a little more than two minutes. The men, who were stocking masks, took $26,945 in the 10:55 a.m. entry. The leader waved a sub-machine gun at the front door while three vaulted 5-foot teller cages and began scraping money into a wastepaper basket and blanket.

Another alert bank employee jotted down the license number of the car and had it waiting for police. They drove away in a stolen car, located minutes later at Waukegan High School. Road blocks were set up, other officers were notified and a sheriff's plane was dispatched. Two other similar robberies have been staged in that area.

Jimmie worked two years for the First National Bank here after 1957 high school graduation and has been in Waukegan four years.

Ask Merger For County School Office

A special election may be held this year if a request of Schoolcraft County to merge its county school superintendent's office with Delta's is accepted. The Schoolcraft board adopted a resolution prior to the new law's effective date, 90 days after adjournment of the 1963 legislature, and subsequently another was adopted. The law requires that districts with under 5,000 population must annex with one or more counties.

Delta officials have visited Schoolcraft this month, checking mileages and other school data prior to their action. Only offices of the county school superintendent, not local boards would be affected. Mrs. Ludwig Hough, county school superintendent reports.

Dirty Bird War Aims At Pigeons And Starlings

By WILLIAM S. STEVENS
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A long-standing battle over pigeons and starlings in communities across New York State has ruffled far more feathers among the human population than among the birds.

The pigeons and starlings seem content to roost on buildings (with the inevitable result), exist on handouts, tiddits at dumps and railroad sidings. When the enemy appears, they vacate less hospitable locations—for a time at least.

An Associated Press survey revealed that more than a score of urban communities across the state are aware of or doing something about the so-called "dirty bird nuisance."

However, the pigeons and starlings have powerful allies in humane societies and pigeon fanciers.

Cleanup Costly

Estimates on the cost of cleaning up after pigeons and starlings range into the millions of dollars each year.

Pigeons raise an average of 6 to 7 broods of 2 squabs each year and can attain a life span of 35 years.

Syracuse, urged by the city's newspapers and residents, recently began a full-scale attack on the problem.

The city imposes a $100 fine on persons convicted of feeding pigeons on public property. It sets traps which have snared about 2,000 pigeons and 10,000 starlings.

Fort Edward, near Glens Falls, took more drastic action. The village permitted men armed with shotguns to blast away at the huge flocks of pigeons attracted by grain-loading operations. About 5,000 pigeons were killed. The remainder apparently dispersed to nearby areas, including Glens Falls, thus straining community relations.

Menace To Health

Disagreement is rife concerning the "pigeon problem." Health departments in several cities have declared the pigeons a health menace. On the other hand, the birds are given a clean bill of health in other urban areas.

Schemes to eliminate or discourage pigeons and starlings diverse.

Hunters armed with shotguns are utilized. Traps are set. These methods guarantee the birds won't return. Poison is avoided because of the danger to other wildlife and humans.

Electric wires, gooey chemicals that give the bird a hot-foot, stuffed owls and crows, tacks, roofing nails, wire mesh, jagged glass and ash-can drumming have been tried, mostly with limited success.

The birds fly away, roost elsewhere and return when the heat is off. Meantime the unwilling new hosts to the birds become quite frosty with the former hosts.

Pity poor Niagara Falls. It must wage war against seagulls as well as pigeons and starlings. The gulls roost along the railings overlooking the city's famed cataract attraction.

By CECILIA LYNETT
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—In the cold war era, a hot war is going on in most cities of Pennsylvania. It's the people vs. the pigeons. Or is it the pigeons vs. the people?

In 1961, the legislature approved a pigeon control act that permits any city to "provide for the destruction or killing of un-owned pigeons . . . by humane methods."

Since then the war on pigeons has been stepped up, but two things complicate the problem: a pair of pigeons can produce as many as eight offspring in a single season.

Well-meaning city-folks continue to feed them.

To most city folks, pigeons, with their messy ways—are just a downright nuisance, along with starlings and English sparrows.

Many Tricks Tried

City health departments throughout the state all agree there is an urgent need, for health reasons also, to reduce the pigeon population and the hazard of infection from their droppings.

Everyone doesn't share the anti-pigeon philosophy. Thousands of tons of birdseed are sold every year in Pennsylvania. City pigeons get a sizeable share.

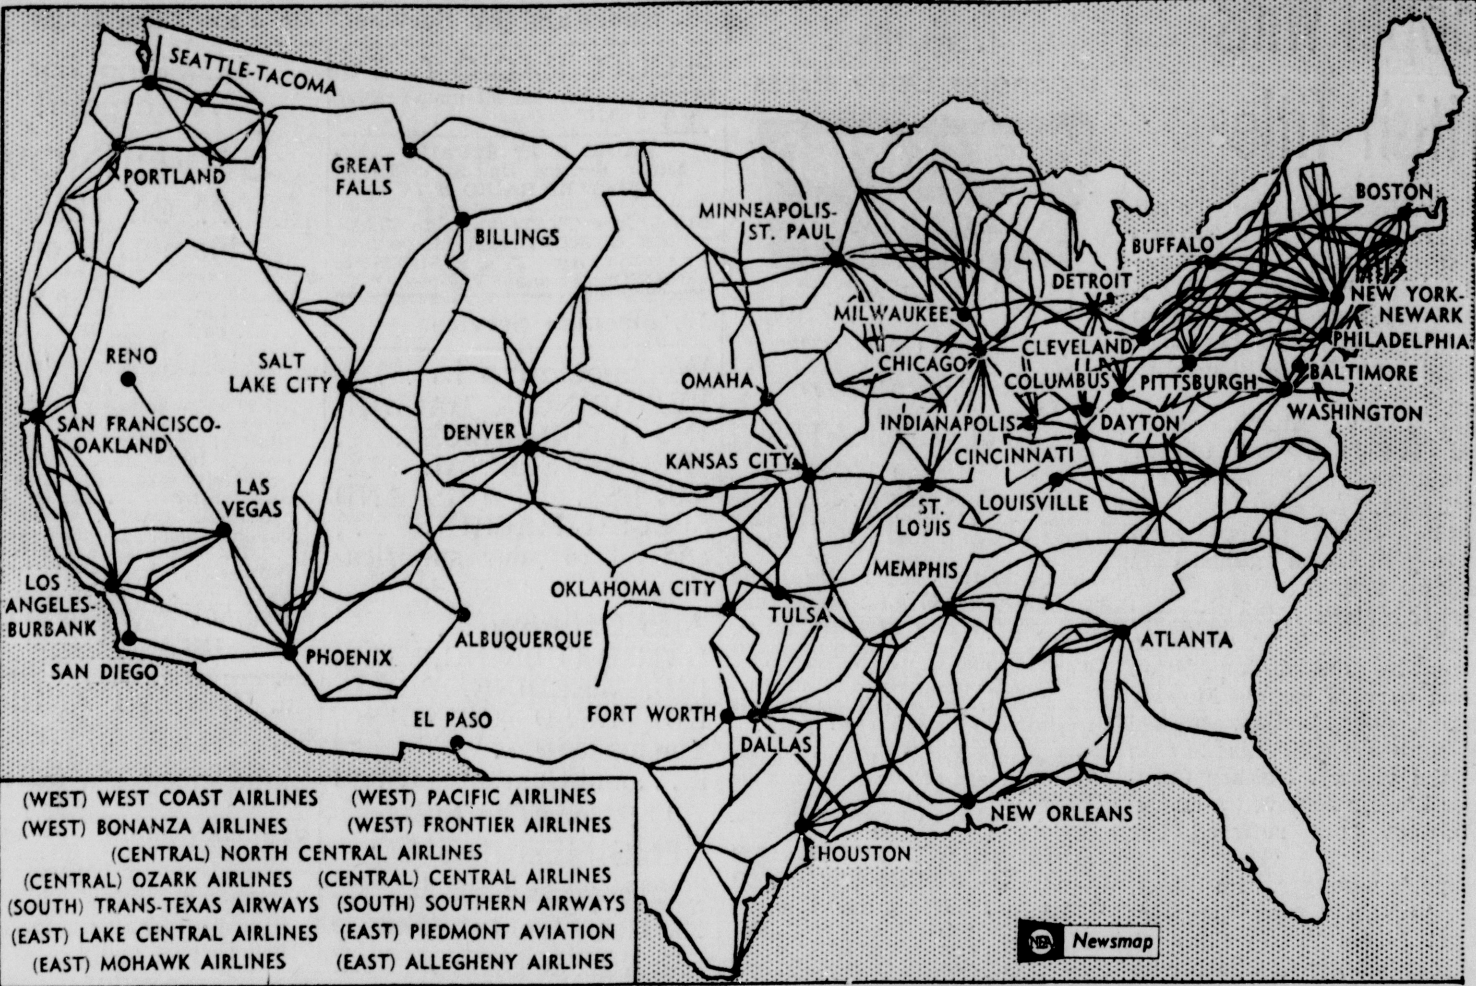

Many methods have been tried in Philadelphia for getting rid of pigeons, including specially built netting, girl pigeon decoys, electrical grid wiring, sticky goo to make pigeon promenading icky, live falcons, and broadcasts of tape recordings of distress cries of pigeons.

More recently, Philadelphia tried a costly mixture of ethyl alcohol and a manufactured chemical. The birds drank it and became intoxicated. They passed out, were taken to the SPCA and sent to their permanent roosting grounds.

MUSICAL ABOUT ANALYSIS

NEW YORK (AP)—"Vertical and Horizontal," a book about psychoanalysis, is the basis for an unconventional musical being planned for future White Way exhibit.

The author of the volume, Lillian Ross, may turn over the adapting task to S. N. Behrman, Cy Feuer and Ernie Martin, specialists in musical production, are the tentative sponsors.

No aerial photograph will show this important network of roads which spreads out neatly over the face of the United States. Many, many air journeys start and end here. On any main line commercial flight one might take, the destination city for a number of passengers will involve a transfer at one of the terminals. They will change planes and, in a matter of minutes, be flying to their final destinations in smaller cities. The nation's 13 local service airlines perform this task. Each serves a well-defined region varying from three to 12 states. The news-map above lists each of the various airlines and gives its region. It shows only these branch lines, not the main line routes of the larger companies. In addition to those shown, two Hawaiian local service airlines—Hawaiian and Aloha—provide valuable connections between Honolulu and the islands. The locals, as these airlines are called, provide air travel within a reasonable auto drive almost everywhere in the United States.

Corpse's Limb Is Transplanted

BOSTON (AP)—Two doctors at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital reported Monday that the first transplant of a human limb from a corpse to a live person was performed in Guayaquil Ecuador.

The two Boston surgeons reported that the operation was performed last week on a 28-year-old Ecuadorian sailor who had lost his right hand in an accident.

Dr. Roberto Gilbert, chief surgeon at the Clinica Guayaquil, replaced the missing hand and forearm with one from a man who had recently died in another hospital in Ecuador.

Drs. Richard W. Wilson and Robert M. Goldwyn of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital flew down to the South American country by invitation last Tuesday.

Dr. Gilbert had contacted the transplant unit of the famed Boston hospital for advice on the post operative treatment of the patient.

Drs. Wilson and Goldwyn said they believe this is the first homograft of a human limb in medical history.

They said that when they left Ecuador over the weekend the patient was coming along fine.

Park Workers Busy In Winter

By BOB VOGES

LANSING (AP)—Just like a housewife fussing around and cleaning up when she's expecting company, the State Conservation Department Parks and Recreation Division is busy these winter days.

With the first warm day, the annual onrush of parks visitors will start—not to let up until after Labor Day.

"A lot of people think the season starts with Memorial Day," said Harold Guillaume, assistant chief of field operations. "Actually, you get them the first warm day."

Even with snow on the ground, he reported, families will come to picnic and hike through the parks. Any park with a slope of snow is sure to attract the winter sports enthusiasts.

The Porcupine Mountain State Park—with its ski lift and slope—has more workers and is busier in the winter than during the summer.

The department has some 300 year-round workers as standby crews. They've been busy with such house-keeping chores as repairing picnic tables and buildings, readying lifeguard towers, beach markers and rafts and putting up the new buildings ordered for the parks, recreation areas and fishing sites.

Heavy outdoor chores such as pruning trees, cutting wood for buildings and tidying up the park premises are done all winter long by some 700 men in the conservation-corrections program. These are trustees from the state's prisons who work out of 10 camps in the combined rehabilitation and work training project.

Special pains are being taken at the Hartwick Pines State Park near Grayling, scheduled to be dedicated with an open house this spring as part of the annual Michigan Week.

The park contains a 40-acre stand of virgin white pine. It was given to the state by the late Mrs. Karen Hartwick as a memorial to her husband, Major Edward Hartwick, who died in France during World War II.

The daughter of a Michigan lumber pioneer, Mrs. Hartwick succeeded in saving the pine stand in a region that was otherwise entirely cut over during the lumber boom.

A museum at the park will trace the history of the lumber industry with pictures and exhibits.

The Conservation Department figures the park season will really get rolling when families are able to take their children out of school in early June. Then camping sites and park space will be at a premium until after the Labor Day weekend.

Goodwill Radio Sale Proposed

DETROIT (AP)—The Board of directors of Goodwill Stations, Inc., announced Monday it is recommending to stockholders the sale of all Goodwill Stations assets and operating properties to Capital Cities Broadcasting Corp. of New York.

Goodwill Stations said the board, in a unanimous action, decided to recommend that the corporation be dissolved and an offer to purchase by Capital Cities be accepted. Terms were not divulged.

Radio stations WJR of Detroit and WJRT of Flint are Goodwill-operated. The company also operates WSAZ at Huntington, W. Va., and WSAZ-TV at Huntington and Charleston, W. Va.

Monday's action was taken at a special board meeting, the statement said. Goodwill stockholders are to receive the recommendations at the regular annual meeting May 6.

If stockholders approve, Goodwill said itself and Capital Cities will make joint application to the Federal Communications Commission for approval and transfer of licenses.

John F. Patt, chairman, and Worth Kramer, president, said, in a separate statement that Capital Cities' offer was a revised offer which the board felt "sufficiently attractive" to present to shareholders.

Capital Cities' stockholders include Lowell Thomas and John P. McGrath, according to the latest Broadcasting-Telecasting Directory.

Beatles Boost Sullivan Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—According to the A.C. Nielsen Co., the first appearance of the Beatles on Ed Sullivan's show of Feb. 9 was seen on television sets in an estimated 23 million homes and by close to 70 million people.

These gigantic audience figures, projected on the basis of samples made by Nielsen, catapulted the Sullivan show into the No. 4 position among the networks' top 10 programs.

If the ratings had been taken on the basis of only one Sullivan show—the Beatles program—it would have been at the top of the list, well ahead of the perennial winner, "Beverly Hillsbillies."

However, the ratings, considered by the industry to be the most authoritative, cover a two-week period, which pulled his average down.

The industry is now interested to know how the Sullivan show made out during the past two weeks, when he had the British rock 'n' rollers on both programs.

If Garry Moore wants to work in broadcasting next season, he has all sorts of offers to choose among. He has been invited, among other suggestions, to return to the Baltimore station where he launched his career, and to "do whatever I want to do" on a Portland, Maine television station, near his summer place.

"I'm thanking everyone," the comedian noted today. "But what I really want to do is get away from Garry Moore for a while—after 30 years."

After June, it will be temporarily retired Thomas Garrison Morfit who is sailing his boat and sitting in the sun.
